ESTABLISHED IN 1897. GREENSBORO, N. C., WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 3, 1911. VOL. 14. NO. 235.

WINNERS IN ELECTION WERE MURPHY, BROWN AND FOUSHEE

Despite Quietness of Election Day Contest was Waged Vigorously by Candidates and Supporters---First Commission Election Passes Into History.

For Mayor—Thomas J. Murphy.

For Commissioner of Public Safety—Edward A. Brown.

For Commissioner of Public Works—J. G. Foushee, Jr.

For Judge of Municipal Court—Nathaniel L. Eure.

The above gives the result of yesterday's Municipal election in brief. The vote cast was heavier than in the primary, no less than 1,456 votes being cast as against 1,440 in the primary. The vote received by each candidate follows:

For Mayor

S. H. Boyd 650, T. J. Murphy 779; Murphy's majority, 129.

For Commissioner of Public Safety.

E. A. Brown 876, J. R. Cutchin 535; Brown's majority, 341.

For Commissioner of Public Works.

J. G. Foushee, Jr., 1064, W. T. Sergeant 360; Foushee's majority, 704.

For Judge of Municipal Court.

Nathaniel L. Eure, 1109.

The vote by precincts:

Morehead precinct—Boyd 366, Murphy 446, Murphy's majority 80; Brown 514, Cutchin 291, Brown's majority 223; Foushee 643, Sergeant 171, Foushee's majority 472; Eure 627. Total vote cast 850, registration 991.

Gilmer precinct—Boyd 284, Murphy 333, Murphy's majority 49; Brown 362, Cutchin 244, Brown's majority 118; Foushee 421, Sergeant 189, Foushee's majority 232; Eure 482. Total vote cast 626, registration 728.

The election passed off quietly, but the supporters of the several candidates were quite active during the day. But to this fact one would have not supposed that the election was of any importance. The voting was by the Australian ballot system and as many of the voters were non-communicative the result was in doubt until the total vote was counted. Of course, the different candidates were hoping for the best and preparing for the worst.

The strongest fight was over the office of mayor. In the primary Mr. Murphy led with 29 votes over Mr. Boyd and the friends of each were claiming the victory all day. It was freely predicted that the vote would be remarkably close and neither side was claiming over 200 majority. Those who were not wedded to either of the candidates were predicting that the majority of the successful candidate would be less than 100.

It was known all along that Mr. Brown's lead of 311 votes over Mr. Cutchin for Commissioner of Public Safety could not be overcome and his election was practically conceded from the beginning. However, the supporters of both candidates were quite active throughout the day.

Mr. Sergeant, one of the candidates for Commissioner of Public Works, made no effort to secure his election and his opponent, Mr. Foushee, had easy sailing. Mr. Sergeant only announced himself after much pressure had been brought to bear upon him by his friends and he then stated that he was not going to solicit votes; that if the people wanted him to continue at the head of the department he has served so efficiently he was willing to do so, but when it came to running a campaign he was out of it.

The board of canvassers, composed of the registrars and judges of election will meet this morning at 11 o'clock for the purpose of canvassing the vote and making their report to the Board of Aldermen. The aldermen will meet this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at which time the report of the canvassers will be received and recorded and the successful candidates announced.

The newly elected commissioners will appear before the aldermen this afternoon and take the oath of office. The oath to Mayor Murphy will be administered by retiring Mayor E. J. Stafford and Mayor Murphy will administer the oath to the other commissioners. The aldermen will probably hold a short session before turning over the reins of the government to the commissioners. The commissioners will meet daily at some hour selected by themselves. About the first work will be the election of a city clerk, chief of police, building inspector, police officers and such other officials as are decided upon. It is hardly probable that any officers excepting the city clerk will be elected this afternoon.

BATTLES

Mrs. Shonts has been quoted as having made a statement of this nature, but nothing could be learned today in verification or contradiction of the story.

MEXICO

Confronted by New Peril in Form of Guatamalian Invasion.

Special to Telegram.

Mexico City, May 2.—The arrival here of General Vitoriano Huerta, commanding the Guerreo military scene, to confer with President Diaz on the situation along the Guatamalean line reveals a new peril that threatens Mexico from the south. There are 3,000 Guatamalian soldiers along the Mexican boundry, called there by the appeals of Figurea, a rebel commander in the state of Guerreo of Morilos and Chiahua to President Cabrera, of Guatamala.

Cabrera hates Diaz and placed the best men of his army along the Mexican border between Santiago and Tapachula, towns in the state of Chiahua. These men were placed here to hold a sham revolt against Cabrera and then rush across the boundry and join the rebel forces in Mexico.

President Taft Selects His Tennis Cabinet; Experts Are Headed by French Ambassador.

Digging down into the archives of the history of the Rooseveltian age, President Taft brought forth the rules and regulations for organizing a "tennis cabinet." These digested, he looked over the roster of the gladiators of the old days and then proceeded to organize a "tennis cabinet" of his own. The new athletic family is composed of one of the premiers of the old cabinet and three recruits. The members are: J. J. Jusserand, the French ambassador; Assistant Secretary of the Navy Beekman Winthrop. Assistant Secretary of the Treasury James F. Curtis, whose pictures are reproduced herewith, and Chairman of the Tariff Board Henry C. Emery.

T. P. A. MEETING IN RALEIGH BEGINS FRIDAY

Charlotte, May 2.—Burrell H. Marsh, chairman of the press committee of the North Carolina division of the Travelers' Protective Association, has been a visitor in Charlotte for the past several days. Mr. Marsh was seen yesterday and asked about the approaching meeting of the State division in Raleigh, which is to be held Friday of this week. Charlotte people have a special interest in this meeting by reason of the fact that one of the flourishing "posts," as the subordinate organiations are known, is located here and for the further reason that a Charlotte man, Walter S. Dorr, is being mentioned very prominently in connection with the presidency of the State division. The convention met in Charlotte two years ago.

In conversation Mr. Marsh said:

"Delegates from eleven posts in the State will attend the annual convention of North Carolina division, Travelers' Protective Association of America, at Raleigh on Friday of this week, and headquarters will be at the Raleigh, formerly the Park hotel.

"Mayor-elect James I. Johnson will welcome the delegates in behalf of the city, and the response will be made by Mr. Charles F. Tomlinson, national director, of High Point.

"Convention will be called to order at 10.30 a. m. The Raleigh Post has arranged a barbecue which will be served at 1 p. m. at the fair grounds, and preparations have been made for 150 plates.

"Important matters pertaining to the traveling men under the head of railroad mileage, hotels, etc., will be thoroughly discussed.

"The North Carolina division of the T. P. A. has a large membership in the State, over 800, which will entitle a representation of eleven delegates to be sent to the national convention, which meets in the city of Philadelphia the week of June 12.

"Officers for the ensuing year will be elected at Raleigh, and Walter S. Dorr of this city has been spoken of very highly as a logical man along with Eugene W. McNairy of Greensboro.

"Greensboro is anxious for the next State convention. Mount Airy would also like to entertain the T. P. A's.

"The national T. P. A. consists of 33 State divisions and from one to 26 posts in each duly organized with president, vice president, secretary-treasurer, board of directors and chairmen of the following committees: Railroad, legislative, press, hotel, employment, and good roads.

"The posts in each State division make their annual report to the State, and the State division to the national association, which meets annually. This year over 500 delegates are expected.

"A great deal of good is done by cooperation of the lines the T. P. A.'s work, and, as they have secured many concessions for the traveling man, especially the interchangeable mileage, the association should appeal to the traveling fraternity as a business proposition.

"Some 125 applications were received for membership in this State the month of April, as the national president, W. O. Hudson of New Orleans, assisted by Director Tomlinson of High Point, and several officefs, spent two days in Charlotte and secured 27 applications.

"Charlotte will send six delegates to Raleigh headed by J. Frank Wilkes, the popular post secretary."

SALEM MAYOR LOSES OUT AFTER SERVING TWENTY FIVE YEARS

Special to Telegram.

Winston-Salem, May 2.—For the first time in 25 years the quiet town of Salem experienced a regular upheaval so far as its administration is concerned. Mayor F. A. Vogler, who has served for about 25 years, was defeated by Fred A. Fogle by a vote of 381 to 87. The old board of aldermen, some of whom had served a quarter of a century, were defeated and the set headed by Fogle were chosen by a large majority. The race for mayor was three cornered, the third candidate being H. S. Foy. There were thirty-seven candidates in the field for the respective offices.

In the Winston election there was little excitement, excepting in the third ward, in which there was a close fight between C. L. Bagby, the Democratic nominee, and Dr. A. P. Davie, Socialist. The fight here took on a personal nature and Republicans and Socialists united in an effort to defeat the Democratic candidate, but without success.

The municipal officers chosen were Mayor R. I. Dalton; First Ward, Aldermen Thomas Mastin and J. Walter Dalton; Second Ward, Aldermen Garland E. Webb and Jas. R. Watkins; Third Ward, Aldermen N. D. Dowdy and C. L. Bagby.

DAMAGE

Case in Wake Court in Which Col. Osborn of Greensboro is Defendant.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, May 2.—This afternoon in Wake Superior Court the trial was begun of a case involving damages amounting to $1,120. Osborn of Greensboro are the plaintiffs and the defendants to the suit are the Southern and C. & O. railroads.

In the car load of horses shipped there was a fine stallion, that broke loose and injured the other horses by kicking and biting them. The damage is alleged to have been caused by negligence of the railroad companies in caring for the horses enroute.

The lines which practically have been secured are in the South and West. J. P. Morgan is the man said to be back of this project, and telephone officials here say that he intends eventually to get every independent company in this country and that he now is in control of the majority of the stock of the Bell Company.

It is learned that the independent lines throughout the South will first be merged and that Morgan and his associates will then turn their attention to the West and Southwest.

JAMES H. PRESTON ELECTED MAYOR OF BALTIMORE.

JOHN W. TAYLOR EX-COMMUNICATED BY MORMONS.

Special to Telegram.

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 2.—The announcement was made today by the council of "Twelve Apostles" of the Mormon church that John W. Taylor had been excommunicated "for insubordination to the government discipline of the church." The real charge is that of new plural marriages. This action, although not known until today, was taken on March 28 and is regarded as an answer to the protests against the Mormon propoganda now being made in England.

Uprising In China.

Hong Kong, May 2.—Late dispatches today state that the anti-Manchu movement has spread from the west river at the west of Canton, to the north and east through Kwang Tung province, and to Amoy, in the southeastern part of Fukien province.

According to the best information obtainable, the foreign missions have not been molested by the rebels.

Service on the Canton-Kowlon section of the railway leading from Canton, Hong Kong, has been abandoned and the British railway officials have been ordered to come to this city tonight. Vessels are making frequent trips between Hong Kong and Canton bringing refugees here.

Details of the fighting at Canton confirm earlier reports of the ferocity with which the troops and the rebels engaged. Queless heads and hairless bodies in European dress are still exposed in the streets. Other bodies show that death was caused by strangulation. The absence of queues together with the clothing of western fashion makes it plain that the dead were rebels. The bodies of the soldiers killed appear to have been removed.

There are indications that summer is drawing near. However, the Weather Man may be simply fooling us again.

When the Democratic O. K. is finally placed on Schedule K it will look good to the tariff reformers.

Greenville Piedmont says they do not have commencements in Honduras. If this is true, how do they find out how to run the country?

Dr. Cook should be employed to head an exploring expedition to Caesar's Head to ascertain if the mountain is really in South Carolina.

"Watch Woodrow Wilson grow" advises the Spartanburg Herald. Having made a beginning like this the Herald will soon be referring to him as the statesman who succeeds.

The world moves. No longer in the gladsome spring time do the thoughts of the young man turn to love. Nowadays all the average young man's mental capacity is trained on the baseball results.

Greenville Piedmont takes note of the fact that the pine trees in Spartanburg county are dying. Amazing as it may seem, however, the Piedmont does not suggest that they be removed to Greenville county, where pine trees flourish continuously.

Yanceyville in Caswell county has a population of 338 and four newspapers are published there. The Caswell county people are probably not able and willing to support four newspapers in Yanceyville. The explanation is that the different opinions of men are responsible for four newspapers in a one newspaper town.

The Philadelphia North American prints one big double column editorial every day, and it is generally a stem winder. The North American is in no sense a frivolous newspaper, and it avoids paragraphs as it would the pestilence. However, the North American makes a better showing as a ponderous and serious newspaper than most of the other newspapers do which essay that role.

Brooklyn woman, who was kissed by a man who neglected to obtain the woman's consent before beginning the performance, was awarded six cents damages in court. This incident will suggest many attractive avenues of speculation to the imaginative minds of the editors of the Charlotte News, the Raleigh Times and the Durham Herald. As a starter The Telegram suggests that the incident illustrates the fact that the cost of living is most reasonable in Brooklyn.

BUSINESS AS IT IS AND IT PROMISES TO BE.

The great body of conservative business men of the country evidence no lack of confidence in business conditions as they are at present or promise to be in the near future. Business conditions generally are sound. There is an absence of speculation and business is said to be dull in Wall Street, but throughout the country there appears a tone of confidence among business men and industrial leaders, despite the fact that efforts are being made in certain quarters to decry the prosperity of the country and to create the impression that conditions are unsound and danger is impending. The Telegram has gleaned from authoritative sources some information in regard to business conditions, which are presented herewith:

The area planted to cotton is 5.5 per cent. greater this year than last, according to estimates of nearly 1600 correspondents collected by The New York Journal of Commerce. The increase in the amount of fertilizers purchased is in most of the States greater than the increase in acreage. No State reports the crop early, while every State, except Florida and Louisiana, reports the crop late by anywhere from two to ten days.

Domestic trade continues to show little change, while foreign trade shows a considerable increase in exports. Bank clearings last week were a little less than the week before, and the increase of railroad gross earnings for the latest reported week was less than 1 per cent. There is no lack of confidence in the general soundness of the business situation. Money is easy, and call loans in New York last week were about 2 1-4 per cent. and loans for sixty days 2 1-2 per cent. The stock market shows no increase of speculation, and the demand from the Exchange for loans has been so light that idle money has been used in buying securities instead of loaning on call, and the change may be regarded as a wholesome one. The primary dry goods market shows no change, but retail distribution has been promoted by more seasonable weather. Stocks of goods in dealers' hands are known to be small, so that any increase in consumption must react at once on the primary markets. With the opening of spring there is perceptible improvement in boots and shoes. Iron and steel are not more active; on the whole they are less so.

The Steel Corporation's quarterly report shows net earnings of less than two-thirds of the amount in the first quarter of last year. The unfilled orders at the end of the quarter were a couple of million tons less than a year ago, and very nearly the same as the amount two years ago. A Pittsburg company has sold from its Mesaba mines 200,000 tons of ore at a reduction of fifty cents a ton from the prices a year ago. The merchant furnaces have been insistant upon this reduction; the big steel companies have been opposed because they feared the effect on prices of finished steel of a reduction in ore. The price of ore is now virtually fixed, for Cleveland firms have been selling ore at the same reduction. The reduction in ore is approximately equal to a reduction of a dollar on pig iron. Lake Champlain ores have been sold at reductions of 25 to 35 cents from last year. The Carnegie company has put out four furnaces, and the producing capacity of the active furnaces of the Steel Corporation is now 67 per cent. Dullness in the finished material market has been increased for the time being by this cut in ore; buyers are waiting to see how much prices of iron and steel will be affected.

The advance in cotton made dry goods market a little firmer, without any marked increase in the demand. Clothing manufacturers have called for considerable additional quantities of fancy worsted suitings for fall. There was a fair spot demand for dress goods, chiefly from retailers. The trade is a good deal interested in the proposition of some large dress goods mills to sell direct to retailers. A fair amount of business is going on in boots and shoes, but jobbers are buying cautiously. Shoe leathers are slow, and in some cases tanners shade prices to move hemlock sole; most departments of the hide market are slow.

Wheat has declined on indications of an ample crop. Corn has advanced slightly on export demand and reports of large requirements by Europe from this country. Lard futures have advanced on some rise in live hogs.

A Privilege and a Duty.

About the only objection one hears when the subject of good roads is discussed is that they are simply for the use of automobiles. Of course no one seriously alleges that they are for users of automobiles only; but it is meant that automobilists will use them in such a way as to frighten horses and deter farmers from using them with perfect ease and freedom and thereby enjoy their undoubted benefits.

That the use of the automobile on the public roads is frequently a nuisance cannot be denied. But it should be remembered that the general assembly of 1909 provided means for the abatement of such nuisance and it is now simply up to citizens to use the legal method provided and protect themselves and the public generally from the "red devil"—or black or any other color.

Chapter 445, acts of 1909, provides that all automobiles used in the State shall be registered with the secretary of State, shall be numbered and the number displayed on the machine in a conspicuous place, and from one hour after sunset until one hour before sunrise all machines in use must display a light.

The act provides that "in no case shall a person operate a motor vehicle in this State when intoxicated, or in a race, or on a bet or wager, or for the purpose of making a record." And further, "no person shall operate a motor vehicle upon a public highway at a rate of speed greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to the traffic and use of the highway, or as to endanger the life or limb of any person or in any event, while upon any highway, run at a higher rate of speed than 25 miles an hour; and within the corporate limits of all cities and villages the rate of speed shall not be greater than eight miles an hour in the business portion of any such city or village and not greater than 12 miles an hour in all other portions thereof." This is subject to local regulation and the speed limit can be reduced. However, these limits cannot be exceeded without violating State laws. Then there is a provision that "upon approaching an interesting highway, a bridge, dam, sharp curve or steep descent, and also in traversing" the places just mentioned, the driver of the automobile must have the machine under perfect control and must not exceed, in speed, five miles an hour—a gait of an ordinary walker.

Further, it is provided that "upon approaching a horse or horses or other draft animals, being ridden, led or driven," the machine must slow down to a speed not exceeding eight miles an hour, must give warning of its approach and must take all precautions to prevent frightening the animals. Then, if a request is made by a person "riding, leading or driving a horse or horses or other draft animals any "person operating a motor vehicle" shall stop and shut off his motor.

Violators of these provisions are guilty of a misdemeanor and are subject to a fine of fifty dollars and costs or twenty days' imprisonment, or both.

Thus it will be seen that the provisions of the act are such as to protect the user of a public highway against automobile troubles. In fact by invoking his legal rights the driver of a horse can put the automobilist "out of business" or rather make his use of the public highway such a tedious affair that he will "cease to trouble."

All automobilists are by no means the propagators of nuisances, but many of them are so inconsiderate of public safety and convenience as to be properly placed in this class. Such people ought to be subjected to a literal application of the above quoted statute. A few applications would abate the nuisance. And it is not only a privilege but a duty that those who favor good roads should see that the law is applied in such a way as to render them perfectly safe and free from any annoyance to any and all legitimate users.—Kinston Free Press.

THE KITCHEN

Salmon Croquettes.

Drain one can of salmon and pour over hot water to remove as much of the oil as possible, then dry on a piece of cheesecloth; separate into flakes.

There should be one and three-fourths cupfuls. Add one cupful of thick white sauce, using three tablespoonfuls of butter, one-third of a cupful of flour and one cupful of milk.

Season with one and one-half teaspoonfuls of lemon juice, three-fourths of a teaspoonful of salt and a few grains of cayenne. Shape and fry the same as other croquettes.

Ginger Dessert.

Three ounces of preserved ginger, chopped; two ounces crushed macaroons; grated rind of one lemon; two tablespoonfuls of sugar; three-quarters gill of milk; a quarter of a pint of cream; three-quarters of a pint of custard flavored with ginger extract; one heaping tablespoonful of powdered gelatin.

Soak the gelatin in the milk for a few minutes, and then dissolve over the fire. Whip the cream, add the custard, sugar, lemon rinds, macaroons, and chopped ginger.

Mix thoroughly, then strain in the dissolved gelatin. Stir occasionally until beginning to set, and pour into a mold previously rinsed in cold water.

Set the mold on ice or in a cool place and when firm turn out to serve.

To Cook Spinach

One large cupful of spinach, boiled and run through a sieve. A small cupful of grated Parmesan cheese; a can of artichoke bottoms, half a cupful of cream, one hard boiled egg and salt and pepper to taste.

Mix the spinach with the cheese, chopped egg and enough cream to form a soft paste. Season carefully. Heat the artichoke bottoms in a little milk and water, drain and lay on the bottom of a buttered baking dish. Put a heap of the spinach mixture on top of each bottom and bake in the oven for 15 minutes.

Serve with melted butter, seasoned with a little lemon juice.

"Isn't that a heavenly little dog?" exclaimed a gushing young lady.

"Well," replied her companion, "It's certainly a Skye terrier!"

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

NOTES FROM OAK RIDGE.

Special to Telegram.

Oak Ridge, May 2.—Examinations are being held almost daily in some departments of the school. Students who have work to make up are getting it off as rapidly as possible for the finals in May.

Prof. E. F. Maberry has not yet gone to New Haven, where he has been farmed from Cleveland, and where he will play till re-called. He expects now to join the team May 3rd. He is a fine pitcher, and with all a polished gentleman. The best wishes of the student body here go with him.

The catalogue of 1910-11 has gone to the press. It shows that the school is ten per cent larger this year than last. It will be the handsomest catalogue this school has ever issued, and will number about one hundred pages, with a wealth of illustrations.

The baseball season just closed, has been a very successful one. It shows that out of nine games played Oak Ridge has won seven, she has scored 65 to her opponents 17. Davidson and the State University alone having defeated her.

The Southern Automobile College has installed more than one thousand dollars worth of machinery. The enrollment during the first two weeks is 35. Several more are expected next week. Some of the students are already going out to take positions at good wages.

It Startled the World.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps?

No, Never. Its foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous, and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only. 50c at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

The weakness and dizzy spells are a thing of the past and I highly recommend Foley Kidney Pills."

DON'T INVITE EVIL SPIRITS

(By CARA REESE.)

Evil spirits cannot enter an inhabited dwelling unless invited, or unless dragged in by the inhabitants.

This was one of the old-time superstitions, and in a way it holds good in present times. Evil spirits, evil thoughts, evil tendencies cannot take possession of your household or yourself, unless specifically invited. This being the case there certainly must be thousands and thousands of invitations issued daily, for it appears that all of a sudden everybody wakes up to find evil rampant. Nothing but vice, mischief, greed and envy dancing and prancing at the merry-makings and receptions!

It might be well while restoring order to keep an eye on the outgoing invitations. Each inhabitant is responsible in this regard. The unhallowed thought, the wish for downfall or overthrow by unrighteous means of that which stands in the way, the greedy desire for unlawful gains or possession, a secret joy in conditions which savor or strife, detrioration and degeneracy; a mean thrust or shove when none is looking, are ever and always invitations and a beckoning or entreaty for the entrance of evil into the individual domain.

The unworthy thought ever precedes unworthy action. Even in cases of impulsive misbehavior there has been lodgement given prior to some phase of discard which has disturbed equilibrium. It is a terrifying thought that ill-humor, ugly temper and a mean disposition are merely outward evidence of a guest list of imps invited by ourself. It is not pleasant to know that the frown of envy, the pangs of jealousy, the bitterness of hatred are but tangible expressions of a company one has urged to be present and sit at the hearth. It is not an agreeable sensation to suffer the torment of unrest, the turbulency and thirst for revenge and knowing all the while that oneself alone is responsible for the admittance of the miserable horde.

In the days of the genii, the days of the gnomes and nymphs and saytrs it was well understood that the wilful and mischievous agencies of evil and disaster never entered a human habitation unless invited. Someone nodded or beckoned. It is the same now in mreeds or civics, in the home or in the personal life of the individual.

There are doubts and fears waiting an invitation to destroy the sacredness of the altar. There are mischievous practices and unscrupulous dealings knocking for admittance, wherever law and administration reign. There are bickerings and petty thrusts and flings with grip on the door knob to menace domestic peace. There is evil everywhere assailing the senses. Be wary in inviting.

Foley Kidney Pills take hold of your system and help you to rid yourself of your dragging backache, dull headache, nervousness, impaired eyesight, and of all the ills resulting from the impaired action of your kidneys and bladder. Remember it is Foley Kidney Pills that do this. For sale by Howard Gardner.

A Spring Suggestion by a Trained Druggist.

Appendicitis and many other ills come from Constipation and over-loading with food which the system cannot care for. The bowels must be cleared and antiseptic ised to give their normal functions and this should not be done by strong Cathartics, as every physician will tell you. Vick's Little Liver Pills have been the bowels and mild stimulation to the lazy liver and thus cure trouble in adults and children.

Philip Stubbes wrote in 1583 in his book on "The Anatomie of Abuses:"

"For as concerning football I protest unto you it may rather be called a freendly kinde of fight than a play of recreation; a bloody and murthering practice than a felowly sporte of pastyme. For dooth not every one lye in waight for his Adverserie, seeking to overthrow him and to picke him on his nose, though it be on hard stones, so that by this meanes sometimes their necks are broken, sometimes their backs, sometimes their legs, sometimes their arms, sometimes one part thrust out of joynt, sometimes another; sometimes the noses gush out with blood, sometimes their eyes start out—fighting, brawling, contention, quarrel picking, murther, homicide and great effusion of blood, as experience dayly teacheth."

STORIES FROM NEW YORK BY TELEGRAM'S SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

Special to Telegram.

(By ROBERT LEE CARTER.)

New York, May 2.—"New York's the only city where I see a noticeable attempt to give wax show figures an elderly look," said a visiting merchant the other day. "Out my way all our waxen window ladies are either blondes or brunettes. They're all fashionably slender and conspiciously young-looking. But in New York it's different. There are a lot of original touches that I'm interested in noticing. For instance, there are silver threads here and there on the heads of some of these shop window beauties and more than one is frankly gray haired.

The other day I saw one wearing eye glasses. It must have been somthing rather new because others around me were speaking of it.

But what I saw in another window certainly capped the climax. The model was not quite so slenderly built, a few delicate lines in her forehead gave the familiar middle aged frown to her expression and there was just a suggestion of the elderly sagging of the muscles under the chin. She wore a discreetly chosen dress of shade of lavender with trimming of black and white and the whole effect was so original that it attracted more attention than all the other waxen ladies in the show window. 'New York's originality again.' I said to myself; 'what next?"

Women farmers, doctors, artists, teachers, engineers, architects, lawyers, ministers and aviators, as well as dressmakers, milliners, janitresses, and more besides, are scheduled to take part in the sufferage parade down Fifth Avenue on May 6, plans for the march are now practically completed, and with one exception, it is said that every equal franchise organization in New York, together with many out-of-town advocates of "votes for women," will be in line. Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont's Political Equality Association is the one society which is not down for a place in the parade. Mrs. Belmont, it is understool, decided that as an organization the members of her association would not march; but it is probable that many of those making up the Political Equality Association will be along as individuals.

Following the leading banner on which will be written a suffrage verse will come a fife and drum corpse of Scottish pipers. Next in line it is planned to have a protrayal of the women of the old days. A slight woman in a Sedan chair; carried by four men in knicker-bockers, wings and cocked hats, will have their places in the parade. Floats showing women in earlier home industries, spinning, weaving, &c., will follow, and then the women of today, in their respective divisions, will march. There will be also delegations of women physicians from Johns Hopkins, Baltimore, and some voters from the West.

M. H. Thomas of Dallas and E. A. Calvin, formerly president of the Texas Farmers' Union, and a number of other well-known Southern cotton men attended the spinners' meeting in Boston last week and were present at a banquet given by Theodore H. Price, at which the question of picking cotton by machinery was discussed. The Southern men told the spinners that it would be a great thing. Incidentally a number of stories were told, and one of the best, it seems, was told by Booker T. Washington, who was one of the speakers. "We don't dislike the darky down South," said one of the Southern men who was in Boston, "but we understand him. We know that he is not going to be injured if we are ever able to pick cotton by machinery—as it seems we will be doing so soon—but we know his little weakness. He is not a thief, but he will take anything that can be eaten." Washington understands his own race and its weaknesses and strong points. Here is a story at Boston:

"A commission man down South agreed to buy a certain number of turkeys from an old darkey, and each day for some time the darkey brought in two or three fine ones. Finally one morning he brought in only one and it was shot all to pieces.

"'Here, you,' said the buyer; 'I agreed to buy only coop turkeys; not ones you had too shoot. This turkey is full of shot. What do you mean?"

"'Jes' wait, boss: Jes' wait! I never shot no turkey. Ain't all I done bring you been good?'

"They have been all right, but look at this one?"

"'Fo de Lawd, boss, I neva shot dat turkey; I neva shot no turkey. Has mah deliveries ben good up to date boss?'

"They were all right except this one.'

"'Shucks, boss, don't say nothin'. That ar shot was neva shooted at dat turkey; it was 'tended foh dis old nigger.'"

---

"The progress of the South in the last few years has no better illustration than in the variety of home manufacturers that are displayed in all the stores and are preferred by Southern people over the same kind of articles made elsewhere," said Simon R. Golobart, president of a large coal company of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Through the efforts of the Manufacturers' Association, of Chattanooga, and the local papers the people there are realizing more than ever the benefits to be derived from buying goods made in Chattanooga. There are more than 500 different kinds of articles on exhibition in the rooms of the association, all made in Chattanooga.

THE BEGGAR'S COPPER PENNY.

A generous man gave a beggar a penny. The beggar went on his way until he came to a baker's shop. He was just going to buy some bread with the penny when an old man came up with a pilgrim's staff in his hand. The pilgrim was selling pictures of the city of Jerusalem in order to get money to ransom his brother, who had been taken prisoner by the Turks at Jerusalem.

The poor beggar was moved by the story of the pilgrim. He gave him the new penny and told him its story. The baker saw this kind act of the lame beggar, and as a reward he gave him more bread than he could have bought for the penny.

When the pilgrim came to Jerusalem he went at once to the Turkish governor and offered him all the money he had gathered for his brother's freedom. The governor, however, wanted more money and would not let the brother go.

The pilgrim said, "This is all that I have except one copper penny," and then he told the story of the penny. The governor asked to see the penny that had done so many good actions. "I will keep it," he said, "and wear it next my heart, and perhaps a blessing will go with it." Then he gave the pilgrim all his money back again and let his brother go free.

Soon after this the Turkish governor was in battle. An arrow struck him on the breast, but it glanced off without hurting him. It had struck against the penny, and thus his life was saved.

When the war was over the governor went to his master, the emperor, and as they talked together he told how his life had been saved by a penny. He showed him the penny and told its story. As the emperor gazed at it he exclaimed again and again: "It is wonderful! It is wonderful!"

The governor, seeing his delight, gave him the penny, and the emperor fastened it with a golden chain to the hilt of his sword. One day soon after this the emperor was about to drink a cup of wine when the empress asked to see the hilt of his sword. As he held it up the penny dropped into the cup of wine. When he took it out he saw that the copper had changed to a green color. Some one had mixed poison with the wine, but the change in the color of the penny warned the emperor, and his life was saved.

Then the emperor had the penny put in his crown, surrounded by diamonds and jewels of great value. To him the penny seemed the brightest gem of all, for when he looked at it it reminded him of all the good deeds it had done. And so, you see, it was not the golden guinea, but the copper penny, which was set at last in a royal crown.

DAILY MARKET REPORTS

THE WEATHER.

New Orleans, La., May 2.—Map shows cloudy all over Texas. Raining at Del Rio, in Southwest Texas. Raining at Houston and palestine. Cloudy in Louisiana, Western Mississippi and Tennessee. Fair in Atlantics; general rains eastern half of belt; some heavy in Alabama; temperatures rather low; 48 at Meridian and Jackson, Miss.

Memphis low temperature 49. No frost and weather getting warm

San Antonio: Weather again cloudy and cold; general showers in South Texas.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Oklahoma—, Generally fair, probably frost in Northeast; tomorrow unsettled.

East Texas—Unsettled; showers.

West Texas—Generally cloudy; showers in Southeast.

Florida—Fair tomorrow; probably cooler in Northeast.

Alabama and Mississippi—Fair.

Cotton Letter to J. E. Latham.

New York, May 2.—Following the publication of the Western belt weather forecast, early sellers became heavy buyers and the market became temporarily firm. San Antonio reported raining and the Western forecast for continued cold weather in the Northern part and rains in the Southern section helped to rally prices.

On the advance to new high levels there seems to be some cotton for sale through bull brokers. Riordan offered July and Mitchell sold October. This has been the recent policy of these brokers on advances but the same interests give prompt support to declines. There was considerable selling of new crops at the opening by recent buyers who were evidently disappointed over the failure of the weather map to show frosts as predicted. The belt wants a spell of dry weather remarked one broker and it isn't getting it, so far as the southwest is concerned.

This feeling is probably explained by the way in which offerings were absorbed on the comparatively slight setback after the start. Leading bull brokers gave the old crop support.

Cotton receipts at Fall River mills during April amounted to 24.315 bales; the smallest number of any month since September, but still 6,000 bales in excess of the corresponding month in 1910.

COTTON LETTER TO J. E. LATHAM.

New Orleans, La., May 2.—Liverpool was about 3 points lower than due on old crops, but four better than due on new crops. Spots five lower. Sales 10,000. This confirms yesterday's cable stating that Manchester mills are buying.

The map shows fair weather in Oklahoma, Arkansas and the Eastern States, including Alabama. Cloudy all over Texas, Tennessee and Western Louisiana. Light rains fell over night in Texas and the Atlantic States. Heavier rains in portions of Alabama. Temperatures in the Northern half of the belt continue low; central Mississippi showing around 48 degrees. Indications are for fair weather and continued cool in the Northern half of the belt and the Southeastern States, cloudy in the Southwestern quarter. A rain storm over Southwest Texas is likely to cause rains over night in the Southern half of Texas.

A large low field has formed in the West and is indicated to move Eastward by Thursday night, liable to cause general unsettled rainy weather through the belt the latter part of the week. Complaints of cold, wet, unfavorable weather now come from as far as San Antonio, Texas, a party wiring us today: "San Antonio weather unfavorable; plant turning yellow; weeds getting better of fields; fear extensive replanting necessary."

The contract markets are quiet and show no trading of consequence at the moment. Evidently the leading bull interests do not care to push contracts ahead of spots as the demand showed a tendency to diminish on the last rise above 15c.

The Moist Month.

April,
You know what's expected of you—
Plenty of dew,
Moist dripping hours
Devoted to showers
That will produce
For our use
In the May
Flowers
And green grass
Which will grow into hay.
Then have no fears.
Scatter your tears
Down on the earth in a liberal spray
Any old way.
We'll not complain
Though it may rain
Pitchforks and cats
Down on our hats,
Knowing the onion crop
Needs every drop.
Send it down steady.
We will be ready,
Glad that old nature
Is getting its fill,
Knowing you will not
Send it a bill.
Yes, little April,
Your weeps bring us pleasure.
Send them on down
By half bushel measure.
Unless our umbrella,
Confound it, is stolen,
We care not how rivers
And ditches are swollen.
Still for that prospect
Your spouts do not fetter.
We may be able
To steal one that's better.
Come on, then!
Make a ten strike.
Go as far as you like
With your sprinkling cart,
Bless your old heart!

Much Interest In Revival.

At the revival service at the Moravian church last evening the pastor, Rev. Carleton White preached the sermon, Rev. J. Kenneth Pfohl being compelled to go to his home in Winston-Salem due to a sudden attack of chills and fever. Rev. Pfohl's condition is not considered serious and he hopes to return to the city this afternoon for the evening service. In case his health will not permit some visiting minister will take his place. The meetings are increasing in attendance and interest. The public is invited to attend the services. A song service precedes the regular service beginning at 7:45.

NORTH STATE CAPITAL NEWS

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, May 2.—An order issued by the Corporation Commission this morning modifies the recent order requiring the operation of the Norfolk-Goldsboro shoo-fly to Wilmington for the relief of the Wilmington-Goldsboro traveling public, to the extent that it is specified that the train shall be operated until January 1, 1912, at which time or any time thereafter the railroad company may be heard on the results of the operations as to earning capacity and necessity of continuance. This modification of the order is made on petition of the railroad company intimating that it would be willing to put the train on with this right reserved. As a matter of fact the law gives the company this right anyway, so that the petition is regarded as a graceful surrender of the railroad company to the order of the commission for the train to be operated.

The Misenheimer Land and Investment Co., Charlotte, is incorporated with $125,000 capital authorized and $4,200 subscribed by J. J. Misenheimer, W. O. Nesbit and others.

An order of court by Judge Daniels is filed with the secretary of state dissolving the North Carolina Fire Insurance Company, of High Point.

There is also an amendment filed for the Spencer Furniture Company, of Lexington, changing the name to the Peacock Couch and Manufacturing Co., and prescribing that the company have power to manufacture couches and do upholstering work generally.

Judge Whedbee, in Wake Superior court this afternoon appointed W. C. Harris, of the Raleigh bar, as receiver for the R. D. Godwin Co., of this city, lumber dealers. The appointment was on application of creditors through Murray Allen as counsel. Mr. Godwin has been an active aggressive business man here for a number of years. He was president of the Raleigh baseball club two years ago for the East Carolina League.

The Caraleigh Fertilizer Works of this city procured in the Superior court here today a judgment against James D. Price and others for $1,400 involved in a suit pending for some time.

The argument of Thirteenth district appeals in the Supreme Court will be concluded tomorrow. The hearings in civil causes were concluded today, two state cases going over for argument until tomorrow on account of some of counsel being detained. The State case argued today was State vs. Rowe in which the defendant is under six years sentence for manslaughter for killing a man named Rose in Mitchell county in a quarrel growing out of Rose persistently driving out of the road on to Rowe's cloverfield to avoid stumps. He pleaded self-defense.

One of the appeals to be argued tomorrow is State vs. Yates, from Watauga county, in which the prisoner is sentenced to seven years for killing his neighbor over a land dispute. Attorney General Bickett in his brief in this case makes this interesting reference: "These men of the mountains live close to nature. They are dominated by the elemental passion of the soil that has made the Saxon the lord of the earth. They met on land that each believed to be his own, and untutored and unweakened by the processes of civilization they harked back to the rude code of their ancestors that knew no appeal to Caesar. Each fiercely resented the presence of the other as an invasion of his soil and while mate and cub stood by to witness the conflict, they submitted the issue to the god of battles. I fancy as they faced each other in the forest, the kings and conquerers who have changed maps and made history ranged themselves on either side, and by every galax leaf there stood a ghostly warrior, watching the ancient struggle for the domination of the earth. In such wise Jack McGuire met his enemy, and in the homely tragic words of his widow fell "on his own dirt." Of course to thus meet and fight and die is contrary to the rule of civil conduct prescribed by the law-making power of the State. But the question forces: "What sort of man will be left when we educate out of him the principle that makes a wild thing fight for its lair?"

The civil cases argued today were Studderth vs. Southern Railway; Yount vs. Setzer; Shell & Southerland vs. Aiken; Hollar vs. Telephone Co.; Jenns vs. Jones; Brown vs. Hutchinson. There remain the two State appeals of State vs. Baldwin and State vs. Yates for argument tomorrow. Then there will be the re-argument of the case of City of Goldsboro vs. Atlantic Coast Line railway involving the power of a municipality to compel a railroad company to conform to street grades by lowering tracks. This is the case in which the court is so divided that the justices have asked the counsel to present their arguments again in hopes of clearing up matters.

Wake county's register of deeds, V. B. Anderson, is preparing to resist being required to make up the Wake tax books, a task that has annually been done by the register of deeds under the old fee system, the compensation for this work having been the past few years $1,200 for each set. Now the register and other officers have been put on salaries and the register of deeds insists that the county auditor must do this work, this being a new office only created by the last Legislature. Register of Deeds Anderson has notified the county commissioners of his refusal to make up the books and has retained Aycock & Winston and Robert C. Strong as counsel in the event that there is any appeal to law to compel him to do this work in connection with his salaried office work. His salary is $2,500. The auditor gets $1,750 and the law allows him clerical assistance in the discretion of the commissioners.

Chief of Police E. P. Denton, of Zebulon, this county, was badly cut last night by Vance Alford while his brother, Turner Alford, held him. Vance had been drinking heavily and the officer had repeatedly forced him to stop carousing and go home. Finally the officer declared his purpose to lock him up and then the difficulty came on that resulted in the brothers laying hold of Denton and the use of a knife by Vance. The worst wound was ten inches or more on Denton's arm laying bare the bone. The Alfords were arrested and are bound over to court.

Grand Master R. N. Hackett, of the North Carolina Grand Lodge of Masons, here for a day or two says the trustees of the proposed Home for Aged and Infirm Masons at Greensboro is to be gotten under way so far as the erection of the main building is concerned before the fall. The contract is to be awarded May 12. Greensboro gives 25 acres of land and $5,000. The Masons of the State are to raise the balance of the money to set up a $50,000 plant. He says that while no effort has yet been made to locate aged and infirm Masons to be admitted, he is confident that there are a goodly number sorely in need of relief such as this home will afford.

FASHION NOTES.

Sweetpeas are among the popular flowers for hats this year and quite a number of hats seen lately had only a mass of these blossoms for their trimming. They come in all known and unknown shades and are very "real" looking.

One pretty hat worn at the meeting of the federation of women's clubs during the past week was a lovely violet creation, the wide rolling brim faced with velvet to match, while the trimming was a wreath of maradou dyed to match exactly.

For the woman who does not care for the stiff white collars there are offered cute little turn-down collars of soft yellow, white and blue linen for wear with the negligee shirtwaist.

There is nothing prettier for the bridesmaids and maid of honor to wear than the bordered chiffons, voiles or marquisettes and these are especially nice as they make such useful gowns for other occasions, which cannot always be said of the more elaborate costumes of satin.

An apparent point in the season's millinery trimming is that feathers should stand high on the hat while flowers are low and flat against either brim or crown.

The smart shirt buttons of colored enamel that are offered for men's shirts have been been appropriated by the girls and are used on the front or back. These buttons have a link to thrust through the eyelet, and when used in the front should always have eyelets instead of buttonholes. Some are of solid enamel with tracings of gold and others enameled centres with rims of gold or contrasting enamel.

Miss Byrd's Recital.

Last evening at 8:30 o'clock at Greensboro Female College Miss Beatrice Lynn Byrd gave her graduating piano recital. The program was a varied one and was rendered in a manner that reflected much credit upon the pupil and her instructors. Miss Byrd was assisted by the string quartet from West Market Street Methodist church. The liberal applause that followed each number on the program was well-deserved.

REPORT OF BUILDING INSPECTOR SHOWS INCREASE FOR YEAR

The annual report of Building Inspector R. H. Milton for the fiscal year ending May 1, 1911, shows that permits for buildings, the cost of which aggregated $393,400, were issued during the year, this being an increase of $52,495 over the year ending May 1, 1910. One hundred and seventy-five permits were issued during the past year.

Below is given a comparative statement of the cost of buildings for which permits were issued during each month for the years 1909-1910 and 1910-1911, these figures covering only the buildings erected inside the city limits. Had the buildings outside the city limits, but really in Greensboro, been included the showing would have been much better.

J. G. Foushee Thanks The Voters for his Splendid Victory

I wish to heartily thank the people of Greensboro for the splendid support given me in the election yesterday. I appreciate the loyalty of my friends and the votes of all who supported me. However, it will be my business to serve all the people of Greensboro in the position to which a majority have called me, and this I intend to do to the best of my ability. I hope the people of the city will co-operate in helping me to make a success of the commissionership to which they have elected me; and all I ask is that I be given a fair chance to serve the public and to "make good."

I stand for whatever will be for the best interests and the upbuilding of Greensboro; and while I realize that there are differences of opinion on these points, I expect to honestly endeavor at all times to faithfully serve the people and to be of material assistance as a public official in furthering the welfare of Greensboro.

Very respectfully,
J. G. FOUSHEE, Jr.

Chicago Girl Hopes to Sell Prize Winning Dog For $5,000

BEAUTY and the beast are shown together in the above picture. Beauty is represented by Miss Edna Crampton of Chicago, while the beast is her Russian wolfhound. This fine dog won the first prize at the recent dog show in Chicago over a host of competitors. The dog embodies about all the points that a Russian wolfhound should have. This breed of dog is quite popular in England, the dowager Queen Alexandra owning several fine specimens. Miss Crampton has decided to send her dog to England for exhibition, and if she wins a few prizes there she believes she will be able to sell the animal for $4,000 or $5,000. She thinks this sum will mean more to her than even such a handsome dog as she now owns.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS ARE SOUND DESPITE DULL STOCK MARKET

(By PRESTON C. ADAMS.)
Special to Telegram.

New York, May 2.—The stock market continues to break records of dullness with painful regularity for brokers. All sorts of excuses have been advanced to account for the dullness and the optimistic Wall Street men still are seeing better times just ahead. The trouble is it remains ahead with the persistence of a Mexican manana. It would seem as though the stock had made the discovery of perpetual immovability.

In the meantime the general business of the country goes along in a nice satisfactory manner, paying apparently no particular attention to the sufferings of the "business heart of the country" as the region down about the stock exchange loves to think of itself.

I do not write to be understood to say there is anything like a boom on in any particular line. As a matter of fact there is a general spirit of caution and a disposition to reasonable economy which makes for soundness.

The Simmonds Hardware Company of St. Louis is one of the largest agricultural implement distributers in the country. It employs a large staff of traveling salesmen, and in order to guage the prospects of its own business conducts a systematic inquiry through these salesmen into business conditions and prospects. The following is a summary of the most recent reports from salesmen on the Agricultural prospects and general business conditions: Agricultural conditions, as a whole, are fundamentally sound and the winter wheat crop, which is the only generally growing crop of importance at present, is in most excellent condition. Considerable damage is reported from the western and southwestern portions of Kansas and the western portion of Oklahoma, because of dry weather and winter killing. In these districts a moderate amount of wheat has been plowed up and the acreage planted in oats. Some damage, though not extensive nor of serious nature, is likewise reported from western Nebraska because of dry weather. Some damage by hessian fly is reported from southern Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, but nothing of serious moment. Beyond this the story is of unusually good condition all over the winter wheat belt and of as excellent a promise in general as can be hoped for. The decrease in acreage is confined almost entirely to those sections of the West and the Southwest where dry weather has prevailed, while other portions in general show some increase. As a whole, there appears to be a moderate increase in acreage over this time last year of about 2 1-2 per cent.

The general story all over the country is that a larger acreage than ever before is being planted in cotton and all grains; in fact, in all farm products.

Farmers are said to be generally buying freely of farm implements, and especially of better grades and higher types.

During 1911 and 1912 our railroad companies have bonds and notes and equipment obligations falling due to the total of $223,085,350, against a grand total for all corporations last year of $500,576,100. The current year's railroad maturities aggregate $256,186,150; to 1912 total is only $186,899,200. The 1909 figures for both railroad and industrial companies was $274,344,900 and in 1908 $403,513,841.

Since January, 1907, the output of new bonds, notes and stocks by railroad, traction, industrial and mining corporations has reached, according to the records of The Journal of Commerce the huge total of $6,671,150,880, of which bonds have contributed $3,624,638,733, notes $1,157,154,802, and stocks $1,889,357,345.

For the five years 1908-1912 the maturities aggregate $1,621,520,19- of about 25 per cent of the new issues for a similar period, and as the industrial obligations falling due have been included only in part, it may be computed that some 30 per cent of the capital raised each year goes for refunding or for redemption purposes.

J. C. Maben, president of the Sloss-Sheffield Steel & Iron Company, says the future is uncertain for the iron trade and will continue so until the many uncertanties, including the Supreme Court decisions and a definite idea of what Congress intends to do in its present session in the matter of tariff revision, are out of the way. In an interview he said:

"In the South the iron industry is a laggard. The demand is nothing to speak of, although we are disposing of a comparatively large aggregate tonnage each month, made up of small lots. But taking the situation as a whole there is nothing that I can see that would tend to improve conditions to any great extent over the next few months at least. Sloss now has 103,000 tons of pig iron stacked in its yards the largest tonnage ever reported, which indicates the stagnant condition of the iron market over the last several months. However, we are operating at low cost and can now turn out iron below $9 a ton on an average. We have four blast furnaces in operation and these four furnaces are turning out more iron at present than was produced by five furnaces previously. One of our furnaces, the smallest one we are operating, which is on the eighth year of blast on the same lining, averaged 242 tons a day during March. As to earnings, it was generally expected that our first quarter would not show up very favorably. However, we earned our preferred dividend and showed a small esurplus after its payment."

ROOSEVELT MEN LOSING PLACES

Changes Gradual, but Going on All the Time.

ALL KINDS OF RECIPROCITY.

Blaine Had One Variety, McKinley Another, Roosevelt Also Offered a Pattern, and Canadian Brand Is Still Different—Latest Is First to Promise Reduced Cost of Living.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 2.—(Special.)—As changes are made in the diplomatic service and in other federal appointments it is noticed that many of the more pronounced Roosevelt men are finding themselves in private life and that the shifting process seems to land the out and out Taft men in the best positions.

These changes are made gradually, but they are going on all the time, and it would not be strange to see the entire elimination of the Roosevelt crowd before the next presidential campaign begins in real earnest.

There can be no complaint on this score. Roosevelt tried to keep the McKinley men, but he learned that it was necessary to find places for his own friends, and gradually in the seven and one-half years he was president nearly every McKinley man gave place to a Roosevelt man.

Different Kinds of Reciprocity.

Discussion of the Canadian reciprocity bill has brought out many different brands of reciprocity. There is the Blaine patent, which can be twisted to meet almost anything any one wants so it does not interfere with the tariff.

Then there is the McKinley brand, a nebulous sort of kind, which no one can explain because the lamented president never undertook to explain it himself. But his followers say that it was reciprocity in noncompetitive products. Then there is a Roosevelt brand of reciprocity which was exemplified in the 20 per cent reduction on Cuban sugar which is said to have been largely for the benefit of the sugar trust.

While the Democrats are responsible for putting through the Canadian reciprocity, it is doubtful if they will claim it, and it will continue to bear the Taft brand. One thing about it, however—it is the only real effective reciprocity in the sense of reducing the cost of products to consumers.

"Another Girl."

It was Congressman Howland of Ohio who went boldly forth proclaiming reciprocity as a Republican doctrine. Turning to his Republican colleagues, he said: "You would think to hear the discussions in this chamber that reciprocity was a heresy. Why, we used to hear gentlemen talk glibly about reciprocity as the handmaiden of protection, but what has happened to that handmaiden of protection at the hands of standpatters in this debate is simply awful."

"This is another girl," interrupted Hamilton of Michigan.

Test of a Speech.

"That was a good speech you made on Canadian reciprocity," a friend said to Asher Hinds.

"That remains to be seen," replied the Maine congressman. "If it reelects me it is a good speech, but if it doesn't then it is no good."

Hinds spoke vigorously against reciprocity, but he did not please everybody in his district. There are many people in Portland who are not interested in higher prices for farm products and who would be very glad to get cheaper foodstuffs from Canada.

An Old Party Line.

After all, the only great dividing line is that of Mason and Dixon. Everything in the debate thus far shows that men north and south differ on the tariff just in proportion to the effect upon the local interests they represent, and both Democrats and Republicans are found on either side of the protection and tariff for revenue lines.

But you can always find a line of demarcation when anything arises which has a sectional appearance. This was shown in the debate on the resolution for election of senators by direct vote and on the campaign publicity bill, and these measures brought out the Republicanism of the insurgents.

The tariff finds regulars and insurgents opposed to each other. Democrats in different sections and even in the same states cannot agree, but bring in something to remind congress there was once a Mason and Dixon line and you will see a party division as distinct as it ever has been in the past.

The Davis Bill.

Congressman Davis of Minnesota has reintroduced his bill having for its purpose the co-operation of the national and state governments in the establishment and conduct of agricultural schools. The bill is strongly indorsed by Assistant Secretary Hays of the agricultural department, who has prepared a great deal of data on the subject to show its benefits.

An interesting feature in connection with this bill is that it cost Davis his place on the agricultural committee of the house and helped to make him an insurgent. Davis was an ardent advocate of the bill. It smacked of paternalism which Uncle Joe would not accept, and he removed Davis.

BATTING HEROES ALWAYS POPULAR

Hard Hitters Make Themselves Solid With Baseball Fans.

PITCHERS ARE AN EXCEPTION.

Their Twirling Ability Is of More Value to the Team Than Their Stick Work. Hitting of Wagner, Cobb and Lajoie Make Them Heroes.

Speaking of baseball heroes, it is generally the pitcher who gathers in the largest number of laurels of any individual member of a team. He has more of an opportunity to distinguish himself individually than any other member of the team and is censured or praised in accordance with his work. His place on the team is held only by his pitching ability; his stick work is not considered if he is a great twirler. With other infield positions, however, it is slightly different.

A player must not only have the ability to cover his position well, but must have a batting eye as well. Both qualities come in for an equal share of consideration. For instance, Hans Wagner is a great shortstop, but a greater batter. It is phenomenal stick work that has made him a baseball idol. Larry Lajoie of the Cleveland team is another example. He has an enviable reputation as a second baseman, but his work at the bat has overshadowed it.

On the other hand, we find a man, like Hal Chase of the Yankees, whose work at the initial sack has been responsible for his success on the diamond. Chase is a fair hitter, but had it not been for his phenomenal work in the field he would probably not be so famous.

There are scores of such cases in the infield, where a man's reputation as a ball player is based on either his fielding or batting ability. With the outfield, however, it is different. Outfielders, of course, must be able to field a ball, but their main qualification must be their ability to hit. All outfielders who have achieved great reputations have invariably been great sluggers. A glance over the roster of the big league teams today will bear out this statement.

STARS WHOSE STICK WORK MAKES THEM HEROES.

Ty Cobb of the Detroit Tigers is undoubtedly the best known outfielder in the American league. His average last season was by no means the best, with fourteen errors in 137 games and a percentage of .957, but he stood at the head of both leagues in his stick work, with an average of .385. Speaker of Boston fell slightly below Cobb both in fielding and batting, his later average being .340, which would make him a desirable addition to any team. Oldring of the Athletics is another star. He led the league in fielding with an average of .978, making only six errors in 134 games and a batting average of .308.

It is such men as these that retain their positions on a team, not for their ability to cover ground and catch a fly ball, but for their work at bat. They are the main factors in the offensive work of the team and occupy obscure positions on the defensive, and for this reason the personnel of the outfield is always a strong pennant factor.

WOULD RATHER WHIP HOPES THAN BE A HOPE.

Boxers sometimes get some peculiar ambitions. Jim Savage is a husky young heavyweight who has done a lot of fighting around New York, where he recently put "White Hope" Frank Moran out of the running. Savage has an ambition, and it is not to be a white hope. All he wants is the job of cleaning up the white hopes as fast as they bob up. If they can't get by him, to the junk pile with them, says Savage. If they do, let them be recognized as regular white hopes, with a chance to go to the top. Quite some job for Savage, but he declares he would rather be the cleanup kid than one of the hopes.

MARQUARD MUST MAKE GOOD.

If Giants' Big Southpaw Does Not Deliver He Will Be Sent to Minors.

Unless Rube Marquard, the former association pitching star, shows the stuff within a few weeks he is going to have the unpleasant experience of splashing into the minor league pond again.

Joe McGinnity, the former New York Giant, who now runs the Newark (N. J.) club, wants Marquard, and Manager McGraw has promised his old worker the erstwhile pride of Indianapolis providing he fails to display something good as soon as the season opens. McGraw paid out 11,000 plunks for the Rube a few years ago and has carried him as dead weight ever since.

RUCKER OFFERS SUGGESTION

Twirler Says He Would Tie Bases Down With Rubber Bands.

Fate had put it up to George Bell, the big farmer from Academy Corners, Pa., to pitch the opening game for Brooklyn against Boston.

Nap Buckner had set his heart on starting the season, and he was extremely reluctant to admit that his twisted ankle would put him out of the game for weeks.

Nap is far from a spendthrift, and the news had another angle that hurt him.

"Gee," he complained, "have I got to stop longer at that fifteen dollar a week hotel?"

It was suggested that Nap take a taxicab home, but he balked at the dollar expense when a trolley car cost only a nickel.

"Say," said Buckner, "why can't they fasten the bases down with a rubber band so there would be some give to them? It would prevent a lot of these accidents."

Manager Mack Has Clever System.

Connie Mack keeps a score of every game and files a record away each day, so that when a player comes to signing a contract and asks for more money Connie can show him just what he has been able to do on every occasion he went to the plate. There is some system to that.

$700,000 Clubhouse For Los Angeles.

60,000 Women Golfers In England.

Great Britain has 60,000 women golf players.

BASEBALL PRATTLE

The passing of Kitty Bransfield, the Philadelphia Nationals' slow moving first baseman, is freely predicted. He's only a pinch hitter now.

Cicotte, the Boston Americans' twirler, has developed an "aeroplane" curve which has a "naughty little wiggle." The ball does a houchi-couchee as it nears the plate.

Syd Smith, it is said, is to do the catching for the left handed Cleveland pitchers this season. The rotund backstop is said to be a past master at handling port siders.

A rusty nail piercing his foot at Los Angeles one year ago didn't put Billy Sullivan out of business after all. The veteran will catch practically all of the games for the Chicago Americans this season.

Cy Falkenberg of Cleveland, in addition to his new fadeaway ball, has developed an underhand affair to mix with it. He starts it at a height of seven feet, swoops it down to the ground, and it crosses the plate with the chin elevated like an angry old maid.

NORTH STATE CAPITAL NEWS

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, May 2.—Governor Kitchin went yesterday with an automobile party to Buckhorn Falls, the electric power plant from which Raleigh's electric current is now brought. Col. Chas E. Johnson, president of the Carolina Power and Light Company, owner of the plant and also engaged now with the development of the Blewitt Falls power plant current from which is to be brought here later on, was in charge of the party. It was just a pleasure run with an incidental inspectin of the excellent power plant at Buckhorn. The Carolina Company is now to supply all of the power and light for Raleigh, having just absorbed The Standard Gas Co. And the people of Releigh are anxiously waiting to see what relief, if any the new company will give in the matter of reduction of the rates on gas. The exorbitant rates here for a long while having been $1.50 for fuel and $2 for light gas. There was much talk just prior to the convening of the legislature, of securing legislation that would put the regulation of these gas and light rates, the State over into the hands of the corporation commission, but the movement did not materalize into any formidable effort with the legislature to this end.

Wake Superior court, Judge Whedbee presiding, spent yesterday morning in the trial of W. H. Frazier vs Seaboard Air Line, in which Frazier demanded $5,000 damages for the loss of three fingers from one of his hands. The case was non suited at the conclusion of the evidence of the plaintiff. Frazier was walking between the double tracks at Franklington and fell so that one hand was on the rail. A train dashed by and mashed off the fingers.

State Chemist B. W. Kilgore, director of the State farm conducted in various parts of the State, left yesterday afternoon with A. Cannon, of Henderson county and R. W. Scott, of Alamance, members of the State board of agriculture, for a visit of inspection to the Pender and the Edgecombe county test farms. They will latter make visitations to the Iridell farm and those in the more extreme western sections of the State, all of them, it is said, being in excellent condition for this season of the year.

A. Cannon, member of the State board of Agriculture, here from his home at Horse Shoe, Henderson county, says the apple crop in his section of the State, one of the very best anywhere, is by no means destroyed by cold. Indeed, there will be very nearly a full crop, he says, unless there are damaging conditions yet to come.

Thirteen district appeals are on this week for argument in the Supreme court. There are nine appeals on this calendar. Then there is a re-argument from the sixth district scheduled to follow that is of special interest. This is The City of Goldsboro vs. Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company in which the justices of the Supreme court are understood to be so badly divided, following the first argument that they now ask counsel to re-argue it, the issue being one that concerns vitally cities and towns throughout the State. That is the right of the town to compel a railroad company to conform to the grade of a street by lowering the tracks. In the Goldsboro case the demand is that the Coast Line lower its tracks six to eight inches for several squares where the town is moving for the construction of handsome boulevard. Goldsboro passed an ordinance designed to compel conformity of track grade with street grade and the Coast Line procured a restraining order against the enforcement of the order. This is the status of the fight at this time. Aycock and Winston and Humphreys will argue for the city of Goldsboro and Geo. Elliott and W. C. Monroe for the railroad company.

The Acme Motor Company, Winston-Salem, for manufacturing and dealing in motor cars, flying machines and other motor vehicles, was chartered yesterday with $125,000 capital authorized and $3,000 subscribed by R. Duke Hay, J. W. Clayton, and G. W. Painter. There are also charters for The Northwestern Telegraph and Telephone Company, Townsville, Vance county, capital $10,000, by C. W. Morrow and others. And for The Marion Insurance and Trust Company, Marion, McDowell county, capital $10,000 by J. W. Pless, and others.

"Remember, that work is no disgrace."

HAIR MODES

(By CONSTANCE CARRUTHERS.)

Curls are still the basis of the spring hair dressing bodes. They are however, a trifle larger and lighter than they were. Skill in handling hair has become a fine art, and the woman who does her own curling knows of several aids, not only for preparing the tresses, but for the actual process.

Artificial curls are arranged in so airy a fashion that they are easily put in and held in place by fancy pins. All this lightness of hair, this tendency to tendrils that escape in a delicate fringe on the forehead, this subtle twisting and blending, demands care in the matter of a shampoo.

The process undergone, or the substance used for home treatment, must be selected with due attention to results. Hair that is thoroughly cleansed by a good shampoo is delightfully soft.

It is as easily dressed as silk. Hair brushes play an important part. The woman who watches the development of toilette accessories is aware that much has been done to improve them, both in quality and appearance.

Something similar might be said of tooth brushes. Care of the teeth has become a cult amongst hygienic people. Tooth powders and mouth washes are chosen with just as much discrimination as that applied to the selection of the most dainty appointments of the dressing table. Brushes for the teeth are large or small, hard or soft, for several are needed in the process of cleaning two or three times a day.

Alternation in hair-dressing has naturally changed the decorations worn in the evening. At coming functions filled will appear; wide at the back, to hold up the curls, diminishing towards the front of the head. French paste is in great demand. Theater caps have gained in importance. A dainty delicate metallic net cap, prettily decorated with flowers made of satin or chiffon, would be a necessary addition to the theater toilette.

Taking Plenty of Time Discussing Tariff Bills.

CAN TALK ALL THEY PLEASE.

Leaders Seem to Believe That Debate Will Be Good Thing For Their Party. Effort to Economize on Mileage Pay Fails, as Members Cling to Their 20 Cents a Mile.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 2.—(Special.)—Time is of little object to the Democrats, judging by the manner in which they are willing to allow general debate to run on in the discussion of the tariff bills. The Republicans, even when they had a whole year before them, showed impatience in dealing with the tariff.

When the Dingley law and when the Payne law were under consideration there was a disposition to crowd ahead with all possible speed. Chairman Underwood, on the contrary, is satisfied to let the debate run on and give every man an opportunity to say all he wants to on the great subject of tariff. It is a very fruitful field of discussion, for few men understand the subject, and all can therefore talk without limit upon it.

Evidently the Democratic leaders are of the opinion that the more debate upon the tariff the better it is for their party. Besides, having been called in extra session, they are going to take their own time in getting away.

Not That Kind of Reform.

One effort at economy has failed. Congressman Cox of Indiana wanted to cut down the mileage of senators and representatives, but he was soon put under the steam roller. Mileage, next to salary, is the most important thing in a congressman's life. He gets 20 cents a mile travel pay, which is a mighty fat "take" when there is a thousand miles or near it to travel. Efforts have been made to make the mileage put on an actual expenditure basis, but they never get anywhere.

Farmer John Dwight.

"It makes me weary to hear those fellows telling what they think they know about farming and the farmers," remarked John Dwight of New York, who was a farmer on a large scale in North Dakota and was a boy on a farm in New York. "Those fellows" were certain Republicans who supported the reciprocity bill.

"What does Sam McCall, Ebenezer Hill and Nick Longworth know about farmers?" continued Dwight. "All they have ever seen has been from a Pullman window or an automobile. We who have been on the farm know what real farming is, and it is a long way from what those ways and means members think."

Must Try Them Out.

Speaker Clark is obliged to try out the Democrats as presiding officers of the committee of the whole. It so happens that none of them was ever in congress before when the Democrats had control of the house with three exceptions, and they were then too new to be put in important positions.

Clark gave Talbott of Maryland a chance the other day just as a little compliment to one of the old timers. Talbott does not pretend to be much of a parliamentarian, but he is one of the men in the house who are liked by everybody, and in consequence he was given a round of applause when he ascended to the speaker's chair.

Congress at Work.

"Oh, yes, congress is at work," remarked a department man who had been told that the government clerks were not earning their wages. "I was up there one day when time was pressing in the last session. The senate spent pretty much the entire day in a discussion as to the name of the first ship which crossed the ocean using steam. Pictures were exhibited, history was searched, and finally an illustrated publication was ordered, the volumes of which sleep in the musty crypt. The same day the house engaged in an animated conversation as to whether a little side street should be widened or left as it had been for a century. Oh, congress is a hard-working body!"

Printing the Prayer.

There is a Pennsylvania congressman who was so delighted with the short and impressive prayers of the blind chaplain, Rev. Henry M. Couden, that he had a copy made every day and sent it to his wife. But now a step further has been taken. By order the prayer is printed every day in the Record as a part of the proceedings.

When you come to think of all the things which are stuffed into the Record it seems rather strange that the prayer, save on special occasions, has been omitted. The prayer is as much a part of what happens in the house as any other proceeding.

Republican Club Eligibility.

"You are eligible to membership in this club," said a member of the National Republican club. "If you are against reciprocity so are many other Republicans. If you are for reciprocity so are many other Republicans. That is the only test here—you have to be for or against reciprocity in order to be a Republican in good standing."

TWINS TAKE THE SECOND GAME FROM DOYLE'S PATRIOTS

Winston-Salem, May 2.—In a hard hitting contest the Twins put it over the Patriots this afternoon by a score of 7 to 6. Eldridge and Boyle were both hit freely with the advantage going to Eldridge who kept the hits scattered. In the eighth however Eldridge weakened and walked a man in home. Morrissey who relieved him failed to stop the scoring; for Clemens scored two with a single and gave the Twins a lead of one run which they held.

Swindell relieved Boyle in the ninth and let the Patriots down without a hit. The hitting of Togo Bentley, J. Clancy and Clapp featured an otherwise featureless game. Each of these got three hits out of four times up, Bentley being up five times with one sacrifice hit to his credit, and getting a two-bagger and a three-bagger.

LEE LECTURE COURSE CONCLUDED TUESDAY NIGHT

Dr. Guy Carlton Lee's lecture, entitled "The Heart of a Child", was heard by a small audience at Smith Memorial building yesterday afternoon. The lecture was an impressively thoughtful study of child nature and discussion of child training. It would have proven immensely helpful to every parent in the city and to everyone who comes in contact in any way with children, and it is to be regretted that a very much larger number of people were not present to hear Dr. Lee.

Dr. Lee concluded his series of lectures here last night with his address on "The Mind of a Man." This was a masterful address and was thoroughly appreciated and enjoyed by the audience.

Dr. Lee's lectures were delivered under the auspices of the Barium Springs Circle of the First Presbyterian church, for the benefit of the denominational orphanage at Barium Springs. The lectures were a financial success, as a large number of lecture course tickets were sold.

First Fire Alarm in Month Was False.

An alarm of fire from box 42 was turned in last night about 9 o'clock and the entire department was called out. The box pulled is located on Ashe street in the heart of the lumber district of the city and every wagon responded. It was found that the alarm was false and the fire boys were good-naturedly charging some of the defeated candidates or their supporters with playing a prank on them. However, as this was the first alarm in over a month the practice did the department good.

James A. Cheek Died Yesterday

James A. Cheek died yesterday afternoon at the apartments of his son, J. C. Cheek, in the Public Service building, following an illness of about two years. His condition had not been critical, however, until the past few days. Mr. Cheek came here from his home in Hillsboro about two weeks ago to consult with his physician and caught cold while making the trip. He was 69 years of age.

Mr. Cheek is survived by his wife and three children, J. C. Cheek, of Greensboro; A. S. Cheek, of Hillsboro, and Mrs. H. P. Hackney, of Oklahoma. Also one brother, T. M. Cheek, of Mebane. He was born in Orange county and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. He served several times in the legislature as representative from his county. He served throughout the Civil War in the First North Carolina Regiment, Company D.

The remains will be carried to the family home place in Hillsboro on the 9:40 train this morning. The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

Municipal Court.

In Municipal Court yesterday morning J. H. Moore was charged with peddling without a license. After hearing the evidence Judge Eure imposed a fine of $10 and costs. Several cases of minor importance were disposed of. A case against John Rainey, charging assault, was continued until next Monday.

New Trial For Wilson.

New York, May 2.—A new trial for Christopher Columbus Wilson, president of the United Wireless Company and his associates, who are charged with misuse of the mails, was ordered today by Judge Martin in the United States district court. Prejudice on the part of one of the jurors was shown yesterday and the entire jury was discharged this morning.

United States Cavalrymen Are Getting Much Practice In Texas

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

ALTHOUGH the automobile has done much in recent years to relegate the horse to an unimportant position in social and business life, it has not affected the work and equipment of cavalry. Perhaps some day the mounted troops will obey the order to "charge" by opening the throttle of a gasoline engine, but up to date the equine charger is holding his own. Down in Texas the cavalrymen have been playing an important part in the war maneuvers. They have covered many miles on forced marches, have forded streams and galloped along stretches of dusty roads. The two pictures above show the Ninth regiment, an organization of negroes, in practice marches. The presence of these troops in the camp at San Antonio has recently caused a ruction in Texas. San Antonio has jimcrow regulations which forbid negroes to ride in cars set aside for white folks. It was claimed that the negroes disregarded these regulations, and Congressman Garner of Texas asked the war department to send the negroes to some other camp outside of Texas. Immediately the order was given for the negroes to relieve the Third regiment in patrolling the 1,500 miles of Mexican frontier. This order aroused a storm of protest from the towns in south Texas. They recalled the "shooting up" of Brownsville a few years ago, and Texas congressmen and the war department were stormed with telegrams asking that the order be rescinded. This was done, and the negro cavalrymen were ordered to remain at San Antonio.

Work of County Commissioners

The major portion of yesterday's session of the County Commissioners was devoted to the consideration of road matters. Several propositions were discussed at length. No final action was taken regarding the application to sand clay the Guilford College road leading into the Battle Ground. The board decided that the best thing would be to go out and ascertain just what the road needs in the way of grading, etc., before the sand clay can be successfully applied. It is probable that the work will be done in the near future, however.

The board made an appropriation of $50 for the Chamber of Commerce, this to be used in advertising the county at large.

Evidently that son of Collis P. Huntington who paid $50,000 for a Bible put a higher appraisal on that work than his father ever did.—St. Louis Republic.
